

ATTORNEY TEAM

Kraig L. Marini Baker // PARTNER // SEATTLE

Chair, Technology, Advertising, Trademark, and Entertainment; Co-chair, Games Practice

Kraig focuses on advising clients and providing assistance with licensing transactions across the full range of issues in media, entertainment, technology, advertising, privacy and Internet matters, with a particular emphasis on digital media and entertainment.

kraigbaker@dwt.com
206.757.8007

David A. Lawson // ASSOCIATE // SEATTLE

David advises clients on matters related to tax exemption and charitable programs. His clients include hospitals and other health care organizations; universities and colleges; publicly traded corporations engaged in charitable giving and cause marketing; community, corporate, and family foundations; major operating charities and social service providers; and trade associations. David's areas of expertise include acquisition and maintenance of tax-exempt status; corporate governance, including executive compensation issues; tax issues facing exempt health care organizations; rules governing private foundations and donor-advised funds; cause marketing and commercial co-venture regulation; and unrelated business income tax.

davidlawson@dwt.com
206.757.8254

J. J. Harwayne Leitner // COUNSEL // NEW YORK

J.J. has a multi-disciplinary practice representing tax-exempt organizations of all types and sizes, including private foundations, private operating foundations, public charities, supporting organizations, "friends of" organizations, donor advised funds, social welfare organizations, and business leagues. She counsels on all tax laws pertaining to exempt organizations, including private foundation excise taxes, taxation of unrelated business income, private benefit and inurement, intermediate sanctions, and lobbying and political activities. J.J.'s practice also includes the formation of new organizations and obtaining federal and state tax exemptions; nationwide state charitable solicitation issues; and corporate governance matters and complex corporate transactions, including joint ventures, spin-offs, mergers, conversions, and asset sales. As outside general counsel to many of her clients, she also regularly counsels in connection with contract matters, both routine and extraordinary, as well as employment, real estate, and intellectual property issues.

jjleitner@dwt.com
212.603.6420

Andrew J. Lorentz // PARTNER // WASHINGTON, D.C.

Andy is privileged to lead an outstanding team of payments lawyers on some of the most interesting legal work in retail payments innovation. His group counsels clients on the full range of consumer protection issues related to retail financial services (a veritable alphabet soup of regulations) and helps clients execute transactions in the United States and abroad. Their job isn't just to explain the applicability of the Fair Credit Reporting Act as it pertains to a particular deal or highlight the importance of complying with the Bank Secrecy Act (though those are certainly important aspects of what they do!). Really, their mission is to find the straightest path through the maze of legal and regulatory obstacles that stand in the way of clients realizing their strategic objectives.

andrewlorentz@dwt.com
202.973.4232

Christin S. McMeley, CIPP/US // PARTNER // WASHINGTON, D.C.

Chair, Privacy & Security Practice

Christin is the Chair of DWT's privacy and security practice. Christin advises companies in various industries in privacy compliance, information governance, data security, public policy, and regulatory matters. Christin advocates on behalf of clients before governmental agencies, legislative members and staff, represents telecom, cable, and wireless providers in regulatory proceedings before the FCC and counsels clients on regulatory policy and compliance.

christinmcmeley@dwt.com
202.973.4264

James Rosenfeld // PARTNER // NEW YORK

Jim litigates and counsels on media, intellectual property, and Internet law – including copyright, trademark, right of publicity, invasion of privacy, defamation, and commercial matters. He represents book, magazine and newspaper publishers, television and radio broadcasters, and a wide array of Internet content and service providers, including the operators of blogs and other online publications; the licensors of images, footage and music; and the publishers of news, health, education, and travel websites.

jamesrosenfeld@dwt.com
212.603.6455

Linda Steinman // PARTNER // NEW YORK

Linda has more than 25 years of litigation and counseling experience in media and intellectual property law, and First Amendment law. She represents a wide range of clients in media and the arts, including book publishers, television production companies, networks and new media. Her cases involve defamation, privacy/publicity, copyright, trademark, newsgathering torts, reporter's privilege, prior restraint, and other publishing law and First Amendment issues.

lindasteinman@dwt.com
212.603.6409

Courtney K. Stout // COUNSEL // WASHINGTON, D.C.

Courtney is a seasoned privacy and security attorney with over 20 years' experience advising clients in the technology, data security and financial services industries. She counsels on a multitude of privacy and data security matters, including consumer disclosure and protection, data ownership and use restrictions, PCI DSS compliance, EU privacy and data protection, third-party vendor requirements, cyber security, and data security obligations. Courtney routinely conducts data breach assessments and prepares compliance programs for clients, and advises clients regarding "best practices" to reduce the risks associated with data security in both traditional commercial contracts and strategic m-commerce and e-commerce initiatives.

courtneystout@dwt.com
202.973.4238

Jean L. Tom // PARTNER // SAN FRANCISCO // NEW YORK

Jean represents a diverse array of non-profit organizations, including public charities, private foundations, social welfare organizations, and trade associations, on corporate, tax, and regulatory matters both domestically and internationally. She counsels on entity choice and formation, tax compliance, grantmaking, governance matters, executive compensation, and organizational structuring (e.g., subsidiaries, affiliates, joint ventures, and mergers). Jean also advises clients on public and private partnerships, political intervention and lobbying, and program- and mission-related investments. A frequent speaker on matters pertaining to non-profits, Jean has also represented organizations in connection with attorney general investigations and before the IRS.

jeantom@dwt.com
415.276.6538

Lynn Harris
Vice President, Communications Breakthrough

4 West 43rd Street, Suite 715
New York, NY 10036

lynn@breakthrough.tv

Lynn Harris is a believer, and leader, in the power of pop culture to drive change. She brings to Breakthrough more than two decades of experience in journalism, advocacy, and pop culture designed to make a difference. She has written extensively about women's rights, reproductive justice, gender, religion, disability, and culture (sometimes all at once). Her award-winning work has appeared in The New York Times, Salon.com, The Nation.com, Glamour, and many more.

She is co-creator, with Chris Kalb, of the (also) award-winning Breakup Girl, the only superhero who works to save the world by saving your love life, and who came to life online, on TV, in books, and on stage (in Breakup Girl LIVE!, Gotham Comedy Club's longest-running variety show).

Lynn is author of several novels and non-fiction books, including Death By Chick Lit (deemed "brilliant" by New York Magazine) and Breakup Girl to the Rescue!

In ancient times, she was a standup comic, a member of the Brooklyn Blades women's ice hockey team, and Vice President for Public Relations for NOW's Boston chapter. She now volunteers as a mentor-editor with The Op-Ed Project.

A graduate of Yale, Lynn lives in Brooklyn with her husband, Rabbi David Adelson, and Bess and Sam, their two generally agreeable children.

Beverly J. Jones
Senior Vice President and Chief Legal Officer
American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals
424 East 92nd Street
New York, NY 10128

Beverly Jones is SVP and CLO of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA), where she provides broad-based legal support and expertise to a wide range of programmatic and infrastructure groups on areas as diverse as contracts, intellectual property, employment, defensive litigation, lobbying and political activity, tax, and animal welfare law. She is also an Adjunct Assistant Professor in the Department of Pathology, Immunology & Laboratory Medicine at the University of Florida, where she teaches a course in Animal Law to veterinarians and forensic veterinary scientists.

Prior to joining the ASPCA in 2009, Beverly served as Associate General Counsel at the Vera Institute of Justice, and as an associate in the Tax Exempt Organizations practice group of Preston Gates and Ellis, LLC in Seattle (now part of K&L Gates). Beverly earned her A.B. in Government from Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts and a J.D. from Yale Law School. After law school, Beverly clerked for the Honorable Chief Justice Deborah T. Poritz of the New Jersey Supreme Court, and subsequently served as the Rockefeller Brothers Fund Fellow in Nonprofit Law through the NYU Center on Philanthropy and the Law.